M'CUE HANGS

Ex-Mayor Expiates the Crime of Murder

After Making Confession To His Minister

BEGGED TO SEE CHILDREN

But Relatives Denied Him This—McCue Was a Prominent and Rich Lawyer.

Charlottesville, Va., Feb. 10.—J. Samuel McCue, former mayor of Charlottesville, expiated the crime of wife murder on the scaffold here this morning after confessing his guilt.

After the execution the ministers who had attended him, made this statement:

"J. Samuel McCue requested us to make public his statement made to us just before he went to the scaffold, that he did not wish to leave this world with any suspicion resting on any human being other than himself; that he alone was responsible for the deed and that he was impelled to it by an evil power beyond his control and that he recognized his sentence as just."

McCue's last night was one of distress. He was extremely nervous and repeatedly asked for his children. His relatives denied him this. McCue was a prominent and wealthy lawyer. Mrs. McCue was murdered on Sunday night, September 4, 1904. McCue claimed an intruder entered the bedroom just after the return of himself and wife from church and after murdering her, killed Mrs. McCue, who was found beaten and shot to death in the bath tub.

Court Denied Application.
Washington, Feb. 10.—Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court last night denied an application for a writ of error in the case of J. Samuel McCue, the former mayor of Charlottesville, Va., who was hanged this morning for wife murder.

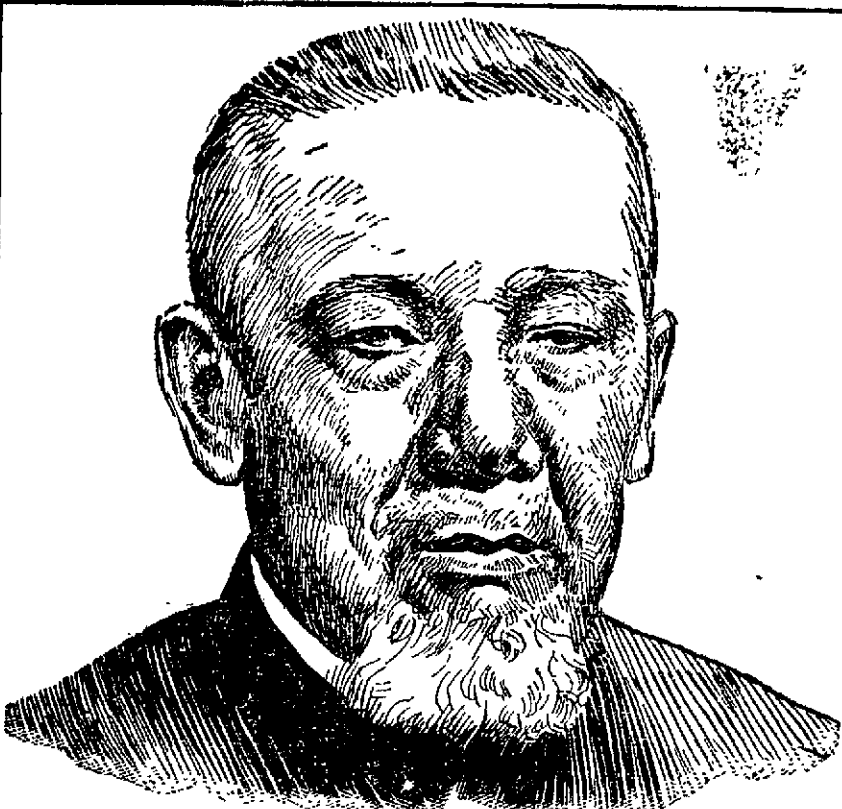

Justice Harlan based his denial on the ground that no federal question was presented in the application for the writ.

His formal indorsement on the application was as follows:

"The record presented to me discloses no ground whatever for a reversal of the supreme court of Virginia by the supreme court of the United States. The application for a writ is therefore denied."

Child Pleads for Father.
Richmond, Va., Feb. 10.—J. Samuel McCue's 10-year-old daughter Ruby came to this city yesterday, accompanied by her uncle, Edward C. McCue, and her aunt, Mrs. Rhodes, and made an appeal to the governor for her father's life. The governor was much affected by the child's appeal, and told the little girl he would consider the matter, but the appeal was denied and McCue was hanged today.

Story of the Crime.
J. Samuel McCue was hanged for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Fannie H. McCue. He was three times mayor of Charlottesville in which he was for many years a prominent and wealthy lawyer. Mrs. McCue was murdered on Sunday night, September 4, 1904. McCue claimed that an intruder entered his bedroom just after the return of himself and wife from church, and after murdering her, killed Mrs. McCue, who was found beaten and shot to death in a bath tub. McCue offered a large reward for the capture of the murderer. A coroner's jury immediately began an inquisition, and before it concluded its work McCue was arrested and charged with having murdered his wife. He was indicted at the September term of court, and upon arraignment pleaded not guilty. The case came to trial in October, when a great difficulty was experienced in getting jurors from any point in Virginia, qualified to pass upon his guilt or innocence. There were 263 veniremen summoned before twelve jurors were accepted. The trial began October 25, and the case went to the jury November 5. The jury in less than thirty minutes returned a verdict of first degree murder. The case was twice carried to

JOSEPH CANER A NEWARK MAN IS BADLY WANTED IN MICHIGAN ON A VERY SERIOUS CHARGE.

Secret Officers Here Trying to Locate Former Em- ploye of Jewett Car Works—Wife in West End Does Not Know Husband's Present Whereabouts.

The Advocate on Friday morning received a tip that Joseph Caner, who until recently was employed at the Jewett Car Works in West Newark, is badly wanted in Lansing, Michigan, on the charge of criminal assault. A telegram of inquiry sent to Lansing brought this reply Friday afternoon:

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 10.—Joseph L. Caner is wanted here on the charge of criminally assaulting the four-year-old daughter of Elmer Ressler, with whom he roomed, on the evening of January 30. After a physician had been called, the police were notified but Caner escaped. He was employed by the street railway company here.

An Advocate reporter visited the Caner residence, No. 129 Hancock street, Friday afternoon but was unable to see Mrs. Caner, who lives there with her two children, aged five years and four months respectively. From others in West Newark, however, it was ascertained that Caner of the court of appeals of Virginia, with the hope of securing a new trial, but both times the court denied a writ of error. Many petitions were sent to the governor for a commutation of sentence, but all were denied. The governor rescripted McCue for thirty days, pending his appeal to the highest court in the state, but refused to further interfere and McCue was today legally executed.

ANOTHER WIFE MURDERER HANGED THIS AFTERNOON

Washington, Feb. 10.—Augustus L. Shaffer, wife murderer, was hanged at the jail of the District of Columbia this afternoon. An ingenious plan had been arranged for the springing of the trap. Two ropes led into a cell from which the scaffold could be seen. Two guards were stationed in the cell, each clutching one of the ropes. One of which however was attached to the trap. At a given signal each pulled his rope. Neither guard knew which rope released the trap. Shaffer, who was 39 years old, killed his divorced wife, Catherine, aged 30, by slitting her throat with a razor August 23, 1902. President Roosevelt declined to grant clemency.

FIVE CHINAMEN Will Soon Enter the Roman Catholic Church in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 10.—An event that is thought to be unparalleled in religious circles in this city will transpire in the near future in the Catholic church of the Immaculate Conception, when five Chinamen will be received into the Roman Catholic faith at the same time. One of the Chinamen, Coo Quee, a laundryman, is already under instruction, and the four others are expected soon to go under instruction.

who was a gas and steam fitter, left Newark recently to do some work in Lansing for a street railway company. Mrs. Caner has heard that her husband is in some trouble in Michigan but she suspects that it is with a woman and had no idea of the crime with which Caner is charged.

Caner and his wife have had more or less trouble during their married life and it will be remembered that about two years ago she swallowed a quantity of carbolic acid with suicidal intent.

It is alleged that a young girl about two years ago, living in West Newark, made a serious complaint against Caner, but no charges were preferred in the courts at that time.

Detectives have been looking for Caner, but his present location is unknown. His wife does not know where he is. A message received from Pataskala, the home of his father, C. C. Caner, says that Caner has not been in that vicinity.

The Michigan authorities are making a strenuous effort to land the man and the case against him is to be pushed if he is found.

A. W. MACHEN

Put to Work Today in Prison ---He is to be Tried Again.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 10.—August W. Machen, convicted of postal frauds, was put to work this morning in the clerk's office at the Moundsville prison. He will study during his prison term.

Machen to Be Tried Again.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The government is arranging to place August W. Machen, the former general superintendent of the postal free delivery service, now serving a term in Moundsville penitentiary, Dr. George Lorenz of Toledo, O., who is expected here Monday to be transported to the penitentiary, and William G. Crawford of this city, formerly deputy auditor of the postoffice department, on trial within a month under an indictment returned in 1903 for conspiracy to defraud the government. This was one of the numerous indictments following the postal investigation. Under this plan Machen is to be brought back from Moundsville and Lorenz is to be detained here. The indictment is based on transactions by which the government is alleged to have been defrauded under a contract made by Machen with the Postal Service and Lock company of New York, which Crawford formerly represented, for furnishing satchels and shoulder straps to carriers.

FIVE WOMEN

Confronted Hoch and Identified Him

Police Pumped Famous Prisoner at Chicago

HE REGARDS IT A BIG JOKE

Crowds at Station to Catch a Glimpse of the Man Who Says He Married Twelve Times.

(Bulletin.)

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Hoch today admitted that he had married twelve women, four of whom are dead. Three of the wives identified him today. Hoch says he thinks his wives died of kidney trouble. He denied that he swindled women of fortunes. Today he was taken to the inquest on the body of Marie Walker Hoch.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Johann Hoch, brought back a prisoner to the scene of the majority of his matrimonial exploits, signified his return by confessing this morning that he had married nine women. He admitted also that the powder found in his room in New York was arsenic, explaining it had been his intention to commit suicide. The police theory that the poison had been used to end the lives of successive Mrs. Hochs the German vehemently denied.

"I married 'em, yes; not all, but nine," he declared, "but kill 'em—never. Why should I?"

Admits an Even Dozen Today.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Before being taken to the criminal court building at 10 o'clock this morning to attend the inquest on the exhumed body of Mrs. Marie Walker, Hoch, the alleged Bluebeard admitted to the police that he had married three other women in addition to the nine already conceded to have occupied the marriage relation with him. The additional wives are: Mrs. Lena Hoch, Milwaukee, Wis.; Mrs. T. O'Connor Hoch, Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Bartels Hoch of Cincinnati.

"It's all foolishness about this poison business at Cincinnati," declared Hoch. "Mrs. Bartel-Hoch died of kidney trouble. Of course the neighbors talked about the way the funeral was conducted. The neighbors did not have anything else to do.

"They did not like the way matters were conducted. But they do that in all neighborhoods. Mrs. Bartels and I were legally married. She was a good woman and wife."

Asked if he would care if he were taken to Cincinnati, Hoch replied in the negative. They have nothing against me there. I am willing to face any investigation in Cincinnati or elsewhere. Cincinnati is a nice town."

Chicago, Feb. 10.—A large crowd gathered at the railway station here to see Johann Hoch, who has been indicted for bigamy and who is suspected of murder, on his arrival from New York. Contrary to expectations, there was none of his alleged wives among the throng at the depot. Hoch had evidently expected a number of his wives to meet him, and he was plainly disappointed that they did not come. "Where are those 14 wives you talked so much about," he asked of Officer Loftus.

"I don't see any of them," replied the officer, as he looked through the window out of which Hoch had been peering. "There is nobody waving handkerchiefs at us."

Hoch was taken to the Chicago avenue station and closely interrogated by the police officials. He admitted at the outset that he had married Mrs. Marie Goerk Hoch and that the marriage was illegal. He would admit nothing else.

Five women claimed to be wives of Hoch, and a police station, and were taken to a separate room, under a guard of several policemen. One of the Mrs. Emilie Fischer Hoch said for a minute and calculated him with the exclamation, "You old hog, you hog, $750 didn't you?" Hoch made no reply to this, but smiled.

OVER HUNDRED KILLED OR HURT IN CLASH AT SOSNOWICE POLAND

London, Feb. 10.—Warsaw advices today say the military at Sosnowice, Poland, fired three volleys into the strikers during the clash last night, and over one hundred strikers were killed or wounded.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—The Lokal An-zeiger today reports that in the casualties at Sosnowice, Poland, in a clash there last night between the strikers and troops, 15 were killed and 25 wounded. The Vossische Zeitung declares the losses are heavier and that the casualties reached 150 persons killed and wounded.

STANDARD OIL PUTS ITS FOOT DOWN.

Kansas City, Feb. 10.—As the result of the recent passage of a bill by the Kansas senate, appropriating $400,000 to build a state oil refinery, which action means that the state probably will go into the oil business, the Standard Oil company has shut down work in the Kansas field. The trust's position at present is that it will not buy oil itself and will not allow producers to sell to any one else, having dominating influence over the railways and absolute control of the pipe lines.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 10.—The Standard Oil company's decision to take up the gauge thrown down by the Kansas legislature, was followed by a decision of the house of representatives this morning to make all the oil and gas legislation the special order for Wednesday for discussion in committee of the whole. The indications are that the state refinery bill will pass.

as though he considered the affair of $750 rather a joke than otherwise. Later the five women were, one at a time, admitted into the office of the inspector, and all of them identified Hoch as the man to whom they were married.

Mrs. Ellen Hoppe at first declared that she had married Hoch, but later said she was not sure about it. Inspector Shippy asked: "Hoch, did you marry this woman?"

"No," replied Hoch, "but maybe I will, if you don't hustle her out of here pretty quick."

Mrs. Mary Rankin-Hoch, who admitted last week that she had committed bigamy when she married Hoch, was repudiated in strong terms by the prisoner. He declared that he had not married her, and had never seen her before.

When Mrs. Marie Goerk-Hoch was admitted into the room, Hoch for the second time declared that he married her, but that the marriage was illegal. He also confessed to having married Mrs. Emily Fischer-Hoch when she was shown into the room.

A physician who had attended Mrs. Walker-Hoch, the last wife of Hoch, identified him as the husband of Mrs. Walker and showed him a bill for $100 for attendance upon the woman. "Oh, yes," said Hoch, "I remember something about that. Bring it around in the morning; I'll still be here," and he laughed heartily at this joke. Hoch confessed nothing of any murder.

Just before the close of the examination Hoch confessed that he had married 10 women. Hoch also admitted that he had intended to commit suicide and that the white powder found in a fountain pen taken from his room in New York city was arsenic, which he had purchased with the intention of killing himself.

The names of two of the women married by Hoch were not disclosed by the police. The other eight were: Mrs. Julia Steinbrecher, married in 1894; Mrs. Julia Marie Walcker, married Dec. 12, 1904; Mrs. Mary Becker, St. Louis; Mrs. Anna Hendricks, married in Hammond, Ind., Jan. 2, 1902; Mrs. Marie Goerk, married in 1904; Mrs. Mary Rankin, married in 1894; Mrs. Martha Horndell, now of Pasadena, Cal., married in 1895; Mrs. Emilie Fischer, married in December, 1904.

RIOTING

Berlin, Feb. 10.—A portion of the strikers in the mining regions refused to accept the decision of the Essen conference yesterday and did not return to work this morning. The extremists are venting their indignation by various excesses. They destroyed a portion of the railway near Essen. Riots are feared.

CONFESSION

By Mrs. Kate Edwards at Reading, Pa.

Woman Seeks to Ex- onerate Greason

RESULT OF THE STATEMENT

May be to Postpone Double Execution--The Claim is Fortified by an Affidavit.

Reading, Pa., Feb. 10.—A confession is said to have been made to her counsel by Mrs. Kate Edwards, who is under sentence of death for the murder of her husband. The confession, it is alleged, exonerates Samuel Greason, who is to be hanged with the woman on Thursday next, from complicity in the crime. The statement of the woman will be presented to the board of pardons, and it is inferred that Mrs. Edwards admits that she alone committed the deed. Her confession, it is thought, will place the case in an entirely new aspect before the board of pardons. The board will meet at Harrisburg Feb. 15, the day before the date fixed for the double execution. If the woman's statement is accepted by the board it may save the man's life. If the woman is spared it will therefore be entirely on sentimental grounds.

MRS. KATE EDWARDS AND HER DAUGHTER. [Mrs. Edwards is to be executed at Reading, Pa., on Feb. 15 for the murder of her husband.]

grounds, as strong pressure is being brought before the board to not permit the woman to be hanged. In the trial much testimony was presented to show that Edwards was a dissolute character, that he drank heavily and that he treated his wife in a brutal manner. It was shown that Edwards was killed while he lay drunk at his home.

It is expected that the execution will at least be postponed in view of the statement of Mrs. Edwards. It is said Mrs. Edwards' conscience has been troubling her since she has been receiving spiritual ministrations of her former pastor.

Mary Edwards, the daughter, was tried for complicity in the murder, but was acquitted. After her acquittal she went to St. Louis to live. It is said that an affidavit has been received from Miss Edwards. This affidavit, which it is claimed, is now in the hands of John Rothermel, counsel for Greason, is as follows: "I wish to state I was very angry at Samuel Greason for what he did to my mother, but he had nothing to do with the killing of my father that I know of, and therefore he should not be hanged for that crime. I certainly wish they would not hang my mother."

Mrs. Annie Kutz of this city, also made an affidavit, in which she asserts that after Mary Edwards had been acquitted she informed her (Mrs. Kutz) that her mother had struck her father on the head while he lay drunk, causing his death; that she (Mary) was present at the time; that Greason was not there, and that her story in court about Greason was not true.

Miss Edwards' Denial.
St. Louis, Feb. 10.—Miss Mary Edwards, daughter of Mrs. Kate Edwards, who is under sentence of death at Reading, Pa., for the murder of her husband, John Edwards, repudiated the statement made by the counsel of Samuel Greason, after a disclosure of Mrs. Edwards' confession, to use in behalf of Greason, that she (Mary) was present at the time of the murder and that Greason was not there.

THE WAYWARD SON

Auditorium Tonight.

CARLE IN "THE TENDERFOOT."

Without doubt the most conspicuous engagement of the present season is the coming of the comedian, Richard Carle, in that well-known and widely popular musical comedy, "The Tenderfoot," in which Mr. Carle not only appears as the leading comedian, but also as the author of the book which indicates that versatility is not wanting in this popular comedian. "The Tenderfoot" is a play in an amusing way the experiences of a professor of a New Hampshire college who is escorting a company of young lady graduates on a tour of the west and who stops in Texas as the guest of Prof. Pettibone, who is the owner of a large ranch. Mr. Carle discloses a series of adventures in both prose and poetry, the latter of course, set to music (and beautiful music, too) by H. L. Heart, which illustrates in an unmistakably breezy fashion the hearty life of a frontier man, as it is in that locality. The personnel also includes a designing authoress, a border gambler, the officers and soldiers of cavalry, cowboys, Mexicans, both male and female, and a solitary Chinaman. There is enough of a love story to bring about at the final curtain the mating of the colonel of the regiment and the young mistress of the ranch, also of a sergeant of the rangers and a maid and Prof. Pettibone and the authoress. "The Tenderfoot" has had a triumphant career, indeed, such a one as few other productions of its kind have ever had. For instance, originally produced April 12, 1903, it has never ceased playing up to date, and during that period it has been presented in ever popular center in the United States, recording runs of one hundred performances in New York City and two hundred and fifty performances in Chicago.

Mr. Carle's support includes some of the best-known artists in this line of work in the country, among them may be named Edmund Stanley, Henry Norman, Wm. Rock, Chas. A. Morgan, Helena Frederic, Nellie Lynch, Beatrice McKenzie and Minerva Courtney. The big beauty chorus is a feature. Auditorium, Saturday night, February 11. Seats now on sale.

"LOVE'S LOTTERY."

What is a palindrome? That question, suddenly sprung at even very well educated men, has caused them to choke and gasp and splutter and try to change the subject while revolving the idea that he remembered as a boy, before the Civil War, having heard that name palindromic. Now Mme. Schumann-Heink, between performances of "Love's Lottery," on trains and in cities, asks all she meets if they have ever heard of the same palindromic. Palindromes are such scarce things that few would forget they had one in stock, but Mme. Schumann-Heink has not found another person, except that elderly hope-dasher, who has heard of the word, but who has not heard of the one credited to Napoleon. "The Tenderfoot" is a play in an amusing way the experiences of a professor of a New Hampshire college who is escorting a company of young lady graduates on a tour of the west and who stops in Texas as the guest of Prof. Pettibone, who is the owner of a large ranch. ## CATARRH

IS INTERNAL SCROFULA.

This Theory Advanced Several Years Ago Has Been Found True.

"It does not appear to me," said Mr. Frank D. Hall to an Advocate reporter, "that one-tenth of the people realize what a terrible thing Catarrh is. Everyone knows how unsightly a disease eczema or scrofula is. Even the name, scrofula, is enough to make one shudder at the thought of it. Well, Catarrh, is just an internal scrofula. The trouble is people don't see it and are inclined to let it go from bad to worse before doing anything. Catarrh, or internal scrofula, is really an eczema of the mucous membrane or lining of the nasal passages, bronchial tubes, the stomach, the lungs, liver or kidneys, in fact it does not confine its ravages to any particular part of the system, but attacks the weakest parts first."

Plenty of remedies may be had that afford temporary relief, but Mr. Hall says Mucuo-Tone is the only one he knows of that really cures. Mucuo-Tone works exactly opposite to all the cures that have been offered before. Mucuo-Tone does not numb the inflamed surfaces as snuffs, powders, vaporizers and inhalations do, and then when the numbness works off leaves you worse than ever.

Mucuo-Tone, as its very name implies, cures by toning the Mucous Tissues and restoring the membrane to its natural healthy state. Mr. Hall believes a medicine such as Mucuo-Tone, which is carefully and scientifically prepared for one particular purpose, is to be depended on against a great many others that claim to cure a host of diseases. Then besides all this, he says his customers day after day tell him it has cured them and they recommend it to others.

Trial bottles may be had for fifty cents. If you buy from Frank D. Hall the druggist, will guarantee a cure or refund the money you pay him.

SCHOOLBOY

Resisted His Hazers and Plunged a Knife Into the Leader, Who Will Probably Die.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 10.—A quarrel between schoolboys of the Berryville High school at Berryville, resulted in the probable fatal wounding of James Rutherford, aged 19, who was stabbed with a pocket knife by Grover Bush, who is about the same age. The blade entered Rutherford's right side near the liver.

The schoolboys were attempting to haze young Bush, when the latter became infuriated and drawing his knife plunged it into Rutherford, the ringleader of the hazers. Bush has been arrested and will be held to await the outcome of Rutherford's injuries.

Gossip About The People Of Stageland

GEORGE ALI AS TIGER.

America a few years ago at Weber & Field's theater. It was a lucky day for him when he was cast for the part of Tiger. To play the role of a dog, and especially such a knowing one as the protector of Buster Brown, requires a great deal of initiative faculty and a strong sense of the humorous, even if not the histrionic talent of a Booth or an Irving. Sometimes a person will say that he feels like a dog, but he doesn't really mean it. Ali, however, does try to feel like a dog, and that, he thinks, is the secret of his success. He tries to put himself in the dog's place and studies to get the dog's idea of things. The role of the dog is by no means an easy one. The actor who takes it, says Mr. Ali, leads a dog's life.

Like Ernest Thompson Seton, Mr. Ali might write a book on "Wild Animals I Have Known," only most of his animal friends have not been very wild. He has usually been content with cultivating the acquaintance of harmless beasts like kangaroos and donkeys and impersonating such roles. He made his first pronounced hit in England as a jockass and has been a parrot and even an oel, but he never before had so difficult a part as that of Tiger. As Buster Brown's ever ready friend he makes up to look like an English bulldog, but is about the size of a St. Bernard. With twelve pieces of twine arranged in Tiger's fore legs he manipulates the eyes, ears and other features as he trots around the stage, and the expressions he gets in this way give Tiger such a look of intelligence and sagacity that it is hard to believe him only a make believe.

The Tiger of the play is a big dog, larger than a dog of his breed in real life, but the Buster Brown of drama, is about the size one would expect, and the contrast between small youngster and big dog forms one of the comic effects of the piece. The part of Buster Brown is played by Master Gabriel, who is old enough to be an actor, but small enough to look as if just emerging from infancy. He is just old enough to vote, but can make up to look like a five-year-old without shrinking a bit. The hooks in his dress-write and talk as well as the ordinary child of ten. His parents, with a fine sense of the fitness of things, removed with their small but precocious son to diminutive Rhode Island, and at twelve Master Gabriel graduated from a public school with the highest percentage of any child ever graduated in "Little Rhody." They took him to Paris, where he remained four years, and at sixteen he could talk glibly in four languages. He has traveled all over the United States without paying any railroad fare, as he is always taken for a child. He has accumulated a fortune and owns one of the largest stock farms in Rhode Island. "The Original Buster Brown" says that he enjoys nothing so much as looking out into an audience and seeing the children laugh at his antics. "Sometimes," he adds, "I find a tear stealing down my cheek when I see the little ones laughing so hard, for then I realize what I missed, for I never was a child."

Some years ago, when Raymond Hitchcock of the "Yankee Consul" company was realizing all the vicissitudes of life with a barnstorming troupe, he was called on to play the hero in one of those lurid melodramas which reside in such titles as "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," etc. During the course of the action the hero, after experiencing all the ills that flesh is heir to from the sleek cigarette smoking villain, is finally tied to the railroad track.

"My character," said the comedian in telling the story recently, "was that of a brave section hand, and, if I remember rightly, the heroine was the daughter of the village boarding house keeper. The heroine first looked the suffering being in the villain's snuff, and then, after a terrible encounter, he leaped the railroad track to the track."

Now, the person man to play the part had for a while to play the part with which the heroine was to break open the door and liberate him from his perilous position. The lady impersonating the heroine was rushing around the track of old, shouting in house whispers: "An ax! An ax!"

The men in charge of the train were overzealous and without waiting until the all necessary ax was secured started the train. Eight day coaches and a baggage car passed over me, to say nothing of the pastboard engine, yet I was ready in the next act to deal out deferred retribution to that deep dyed villain."

Maelyn Arbuckle, who plays the country lawyer and party leader in "The County Chairman," has a quality makeup and one which was copied from an old type of himself when he was an attorney in Texas and ran for justice of the peace. His defeat for that office led to his going on the stage. He had an amusing experience one evening when playing the role of the eccentric but good hearted politician. "Just before the curtain went up," says the actor, "I ventured to peep out, and there in a box near the stage sat an exact duplicate of myself in the person of a real county chairman, a well known southern gentleman, a Democrat, who rules things in Kanawha county, W. Va. Colonel Bob Carr is one of the most lovable and picturesque representatives of the old time southern aristocrat, of which there are so few left. Well, I gazed and gazed in astonishment, and when I made my entrance

the audience, which had already appreciated the wonderful resemblance, applauded and laughed. That was a great evening. I met Colonel Carr afterward. It seems that his son had inveigled him into coming to New York just to have him see and meet me, and the colonel was as much astonished by my appearance as I was by his. We have since become good friends, and I have visited his home in Charleston, W. Va."

"Now, when I am drawing the largest salary I have ever had, it seems odd to remember that for my first appearance I drew $50 a week," Lillian Russell said recently. "It was Mr. Tony Pastor who met me at a friend's house and to whom I confided my desire to go on the stage. He said he'd give me a position at once. Then I thought of my mother's disapproval, but Mr. Pastor suggested that I come down in my ordinary attire, sing a few ballads, and even then I could get back home before any one missed me."

"It was a great temptation, and I agreed. In order to keep it a secret I took the stage name of Lillian Russell—my own was Helen Louise Leonard—but she was mother to LILLIAN RUSSELL, he considered. For two weeks I went unsuspected, and then a newspaper man said pleasantly to my mother: 'You ought to see Lillian Russell, that English girl who is playing down at Pastor's.'"

"Can you see me in a cold sweat? My mother went down to the performance. I hurried home and reached there before she did; then I waited in terror until she arrived. She came in, looked me over and said, 'Well, I think you can afford to pay for your own music lessons.' And after that I had to go."

"I got $50 a week, and my first week's wage was advanced to get me the gown I wanted, and I paid it back $10 each week. Now, when my salary is—well, quite some, as they say in Brooklyn—I haven't any more left."

"My first part was Tilly, the slavey in 'The Hoop of Gold,' May Robson said recently.

"When I began no one had ever told me anything about grease paint. I made up with water colors. It took me an hour and a half every night. When I smiled my face would crack."

In his "Recollections of a Player" J. H. Stoddard of "The Bonnie Brier Bush" fame tells of an incident that happened in Glasgow when he was a young actor. One George Frederick Cooke was to play Richard with the assistance of a young man cast for Ratcliff. At the end of the great speech in the tent scene this nameless performer came on to answer Richard's shout of inquiry with these words: "Ratcliff, my lord, 'tis I. This early village cock hath twice done salutation to the morn."

Your friends are up and buckle on their armor. "But the Ratcliff was so unmercifully stammered, 'Tis I, my lord, the early village cock'—And, making another effort, he repeated this amazing declaration. Poor Cooke was hopeless and enraged and blurted forth: "Then why the devil don't you crow?" Mr. Stoddard himself had a grievous experience once in those early days. At a rehearsal of Macbeth with Macready, in which it was his business as one of the apparitions to say, "Macbeth, Macbeth, Macbeth, beware Macduff!" he was so nervous that he began, "Macbeth, Macbeth, and in spite of the profane names of the great actor, he could not pronounce the name correctly. He confessed that he does not remember whether he finally said "Macbeth" or "Macduff." But even at the start it was plain that he had the root of the matter in him.

CATARRH

Cannot be cured by Sprays or other Local Applications.

Catarrh is not, as is generally believed, a local disease, but is due to serious causes deep-seated in the blood. Blood Taint and Lowered Vitality are the conditions which give rise to Catarrh and sprays, washes, smoking preparations or other local remedies cannot do more than temporarily relieve the symptoms and can never reach and cure the disease itself. Many doctors direct their efforts to relieving the mere symptoms of Catarrh, treating it as a strictly local disease and totally losing sight of the real causes that underlie the outward signs of this malady. Catarrh, if not promptly arrested and cured, may cause consumption or lead to very serious diseases of the digestive organs.

Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) cures Catarrh quickly, thoroughly and permanently. Its curative properties act directly on the blood, driving out the poison, purifying and strengthening the whole system. It relieves immediately the disgusting symptoms of Catarrh, such as hawking, spitting, nose bleeding, ringing in the ears, the dropping of catarrhal matter into the throat, sick stomach, etc. It absolutely and permanently cures all forms of Catarrh—Catarrh of the Nose, Ear, Throat, Eyes, Lungs, Stomach, Liver or Kidneys. If you have any of the symptoms of Catarrh, don't waste time and money on worthless local remedies but get B. B. B.—the medicine that is guaranteed to cure.

Battle Imminent. Tokyo, Feb. 10.—The impression prevails here that, the impending battle between the armies of Field Marshal Oyama and General Kuropatkin will occur before any material takes place, which would convert the country into a slushy bog and render the movement of guns, ammunition and stores impossible until the roads harden. The Russians are entrenching and continuing their bombardment in the direction of the Shakke river.

The president expressed his pleasure at receiving the invitation, but expressed doubt whether at that time he would be able to be present.

In view of the periodic discussion about the appropriate naming of warships it is of interest to learn that Japan has named her big battleships after great mountains and the small war vessels from some well-known natural features of the country. It may also be mentioned that at the end of the name of every Japanese ship is either the termination "kan" or "maru." "Kan" means war vessels, and is applied of course, only to the Emperor's fleet. "Maru," which means round, is applied to merchant vessels, why it is difficult to say.

abstruse problem in their minds, vainly trying to fish out a thread that will give them something on which to hang a lame definition rather than admit ignorance of the word and its definition. Flatly, Webster gives palindromic as "a word, verse or sentence that is the same when read backward or forward." The most notable palindromic of which we have any knowledge is that which was shown when a sentence of lament by Napoleon was translated into English. It was, "Abbe was I am I saw ciba." Read that straight away and then read it backward, after for letter, and you have an eloquent translation of what a palindromic is. It caught the eye of Mme. ### Forced by the Democrats.

Thursday the Esch-Townsend bill providing for the regulation of railroad rates passed the lower house of Congress by a vote of 326 yeas to 17 nays. The Republicans were practically forced to favor the measure by the urgent attitude of President Roosevelt in its behalf and the support he received from the Democrats. John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader of the House, made the closing speech on behalf of the Democrats in favor of the measure. He congratulated the House upon the fact that not only in the matter of rate legislation, but in several other particulars President Roosevelt, "nominated by the Republican party and elected by the people," was beginning to assume a distinctly Democratic attitude.

Mr. Williams pointed out that the Democrats proposed to take the President at his word and to support him in his effort to secure legislation for railroad rate regulation at this session. Their action forced the hands of the Republican leaders, all of whom desired delay.

The balloting for United States senator in Delaware shows that Addicks is still unable to secure his election. He has 22 votes, Dupont 9 and the Democratic candidate 21. Addicks still needs five more votes, and there does not appear to be any prospect of his securing them. While his followers secured the chief offices in the organization of the Legislature, this fact does not appear to have helped his cause. He failed to retain one of his best friends in the office of secretary of state, and the governor is hostile to him. Should the Legislature not elect a senator, as seems likely, it is said that the governor will appoint Colonel Dupont, Addicks' Republican opponent, to the position.

BROUGHT TO END

Is the Litigation Involving Guardianship of Moses Fowler Chase, the Young Millionaire.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 10.—The litigation involving the guardianship of Moses Fowler Chase, the young Indianapolis millionaire, and the administration of his estate, which has engaged the attention of the courts of Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, was brought to a close here when the decree from the probate court of Hamilton county, O., was filed in the United States district court of Indiana. The terms of settlement, according to the decree, are as follows: Mrs. Duhme is to return to her nephew's father, as guardian, United States bonds to the amount of $50,000; $50,000 in cash and coupons and $50,000 in bank stocks. In addition to this Mrs. Duhme is to give land in Benton county, valued at $100,000, to make restitution for parts of the young man's property she has used, and to pay the fees of all the attorneys who have represented Chase in the Lafayette, Benton county and superior courts. A will made by Moses Chase in 1899, in which he names Mrs. Duhme as beneficiary, will be turned over and canceled.

SCORES KILLED

Troops Fire Upon Mobs of Strikers in Poland—A Bloody Conflict Followed.

Berlin, Feb. 10.—Dispatches from Sosnowice, Poland, describe the bloody character of the conflict between the military and strikers at the Katherinen iron works. One correspondent telegraphs that 15 persons were killed and 25 wounded while another gives the number killed as 50. The military fired eight volleys. Another collision occurred at the Nifka mine, beyond Modrzew, where it is rumored 150 persons were killed. A third collision occurred near Mlonic, but was bloodless.

Employers Forced to Pay.

Lodz, Feb. 10.—At the Coats thread mills and many other establishments the strikers were paid three days' wages as an advance, although it was claimed that nothing was legally due them. The managers of Heintzel's mill refused to pay anything, and the workmen, threatened to wreck the place. The military prepared to fire and for a moment the situation was extremely grave, but the management finally yielded and agreed to pay provided the men promised to return to work on Monday. Another manager refused payment to the strikers, but at the point of a revolver was compelled to promise payment. Employers are paying only as a matter of expediency.

Charge Against Gorky.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—Absolute secrecy is still maintained regarding the exact nature of the charge against Novelist Gorky, but it is believed that it is an alleged attempt to induce troops to mutiny and to stir up a revolt of workmen. It has not yet been decided whether he will be tried by a military or a civil court, but it is practically certain that the charges against him do not involve the death penalty.

Fired on a Mob.

Sosnowice, Feb. 10.—Strikers attacked the workers in the electric station. Troops fired from the windows of the plant, wounding many people. The situation here is much disturbed, but the military force is sufficient to awe rioters. Eight battalions of infantry, eight squadrons of cavalry and one regiment of Cossacks are now in the town.

Governor General Dead.

London, Feb. 10.—Special dispatches from Warsaw report the death of Governor General Tcherkoff of the province of Warsaw, who was wounded in the leg in a recent encounter between troops and strikers.

Men Again Quit Work.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The strike is again on at Putloff and Franco-Russian works. This morning a number of employees of these firms, after conference with directors, went out owing to refusal of manufacturers to grant eight hour day. Strikers marched in small groups through city. No disorders are feared.

More Go on Strike.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The strike situation is still uneasy and trade is paralyzed by a feeling of uncertainty which prevails throughout the empire. It is estimated that 30,000 additional workers went out on strike yesterday. The men are bitter because they have not received promised reforms promptly.

Second Siberian Railway.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—It has been finally decided to build a second Siberian railway from Tomsk to Omsk. The work will be inaugurated in the spring. This project has long been contemplated, but heretofore, whenever broached by the ministry of ways and communications, opposition has been raised on account of the heavy expense which must of necessity be incurred. The present Siberian road is a single track affair and totally inadequate to take care of the traffic over its branches.

Witte's Liberal Policy.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—M. Witte's policy favoring the widest discussion of the reforms is giving the greatest satisfaction. It is understood that Privy Councillor Kobeko will summon a conference of editors before proceeding to discuss the press reforms, and the metropolitan of St. Petersburg is convoking ministers of all creeds prior to the consideration by special committee of the point in Emperor Nicholas' ukase dealing with religious tolerance. This liberality and energy displayed by M. Witte in directing the whole question of reforms has started the reactionaries.

Japanese and Russian Forces.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The Army Journal publishes official statistics of Field Marshal Oyama's forces based on the regimental numbers on the uniforms of the Japanese killed during the engagements. According to this report General Kuroki, commanding the Japanese right, has 75 battalions, 15 squadrons and 306 guns, besides 70 to 80 reserve battalions. General Nodzu, commanding the center, has 60 battalions, 6 squadrons and 138 guns, or 65,000 men. General Oku, commanding the left, including General Negi's forces, has 58 battalions, 23 squadrons and 342 guns, or 110,000 men. The number of reserves with General Nodzu and Oku is unknown. The total of Field Marshal Oyama's regular troops is placed at 265,000 cavalry, and infantry and 870 guns. The total number of reserves is probably 100,000. Military men estimate General Kuroki's superiority at about 50,000 men.

A FARMER'S CABIN IN FINLAND.

The troubles in Russia appear to be spreading to the subjugated countries nearby. In Finland there have been several outbreaks. ### HIS HIGHNESS THE KABAKA.

Daudi Chwa, Monarch of Uganda, and His Reform Policy.

The newest thing in kings is the boy monarch of Uganda, his highness the Kabaka Daudi Chwa. He does not look very much like a brainy statesman, but is said to be a marked improvement over former rulers of Uganda, as he is but fifteen years of age. He is assisted in governing the country by three native chiefs, who act as regents. He is a son of the fierce and bloody Mwangi, whose conduct as potentate of Uganda was so reprehensible that he had to be deported. Daudi Chwa was proclaimed king a few months ago, and reform is all the vogue now in Uganda. He was educated by English missionaries.

Formerly the monarchs of Uganda could say the word and their command was executed, even though it involved cutting off a subject's head. English ascendancy has modified all this. The rulers were formerly wont to surround themselves with soldiers, musicians, dwarfs, clowns and other adjuncts of a mediæval or oriental court. But King Daudi Chwa is more up to date. His amusements are modern, and he goes in for bicycling and pretty soon will be sporting an automobile. His revenue amounts to $7,500 a year, which is quite munificent for Uganda.

A tablespoonful of muriatic acid will thoroughly cleanse a carafe or glass vase; but, as it is a deadly poison, it must be handled with great care. After the acid is removed the carafe should be rinsed in hot soapsuds and then in several clear waters. The acid can be poured from one vessel to another and then returned to the bottle for future use.

A Hint to Mothers.

"Greater than anger is love and subdueth." Yes, but it must be the right kind of love—not the kind that prompts one to allow a child to eat chocolate creams until an attack of croup is the result or a mother to make a slave of herself for her children. Earthenware saucepans should be heated for use by putting them on the back part of the stove with cold or lukewarm water in them and letting them heat gradually. If boiling water is poured in them and then they are placed directly on the hottest part of the stove they are liable to crack.

TO REGULATE RATES

RAILWAY RATE BILL PASSED BY THE HOUSE.

Seventeen Members Opposed It—The Measure Increases the Power of the Commission.

Washington, Feb. 10.—As bulletined to the Advocate yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 326 to 17, the House of Representatives passed the Esch-Townsend bill extending authority to the Interstate Commerce commission to regulate freight rates. The negative vote was made up of 11 Republicans and 6 Democrats. The closing hours of the debate were occupied by Messrs. Williams (Miss.), the minority leader, and Hepburn (Ia.), chairman of the committee which reported the bill. Mr. Williams, while supporting the minority measure, even though he said he knew it could not pass, complimented the Republicans for bringing in a bill which was much better than he expected would come from them. The speech of Mr. Hepburn was rather in defense of himself. He said that his deeds and acts were a sufficient answer to the "lies and slanders" which had been heaped upon him. The known as the Hepburn bill, he said, had been prepared by the attorney general, and he only yielded to his colleagues on the committee on the Esch-Townsend bill because he did not want the committee to be the target for scribbles who wanted sensational headlines. He devoted some time to a strong presentation of the merits of the measure. Republicans who voted against the bill: Adams (Pa.), Caster (Pa.), Dwight (N. Y.), Gardner (N. J.), Hill (Conn.), Huff (Pa.), McCall (Mass.), Porter (Pa.), Sibley (Pa.), Southwick (N. Y.) and Vreeland (N. Y.). The following Democrats voted "no": Harrison, McDermott, Rider, Scudder, Goulden (N. Y.) and Shull (Pa.).

It is currently reported here that President Roosevelt will make no move in the matter of disposing of the arbitration treaties now pending before the senate, notwithstanding the action of the senate committee on foreign relations in amending these treaties in a manner to make them objectionable to the administration. It is felt that so little time remains between now and the fourth of March that there is but slight prospect of action by the senate upon the committee's report, and beside there is no certainty that the senate itself will approve the committee's amendments, so the belief prevails that the conventions are doomed to expire without action.

Writing from Damaraland about the war in German Southwest Africa, an officer writes to a Frankfort paper: "In theory one German soldier is supposed to equal five Hereros, but in practice, under Southwest African conditions, it is more probable that we shall need five Germans to every Herero."

announces that it is ready to ship colonies of the soil bacteria to agriculturists making application for them.

It is a familiar fact that fields may be enriched by plowing under beans, clover and alfalfa. This restores fertility to worn-out fields. The reason is that the roots of these plants have bulbs that are masses of bacteria which constantly draw free nitrogen from the air and distribute this life of the plant world among the plants and in the ground. With this fact as a starting point, Dr. Moore, who is an authority in botany and a member of various learned societies, though only about thirty years of age, has experimented and studied. He has found a way at last by which colonies of soil bacteria can be systematically produced and distributed. The postal service is used in the distribution, and the farmer who receives a shipment of this kind may, by following the simple directions given, treat the seed that he sows in such a way as to increase by many times the yield of his field.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the introduction of electric traction into Germany will soon be celebrated in Berlin.

IN THE COURTS

JONES-WHITE CASE OCCUPIES COURT'S ATTENTION.

Partition of the Franklin Estate—Notice to Witnesses—In the Circuit Court.

The court and jury were engaged Friday in hearing the testimony in the case of Benj. B. Jones vs. Annie M. White. The action is brought to recover for building a house for the defendant on Valandigham street in this city. Flory & Flory, Stasel; Hunter & Hunter.

The Benj. Franklin Estate.

An important partition suit has just been commenced in the Common Pleas court, wherein Mary H. F. Scott is the plaintiff and Emily M. Franklin, Emily F. Griggs, Harry H. Griggs, Martha F. Thompson, Channing M. Thompson, Harry P. Scott, Benjamin F. Montgomery, a minor under the age of fourteen years, Elizabeth S. Franklin and John Yost are the defendants.

The plaintiff says she has a legal right in fee simple, as an heir-at-law of Benjamin Franklin, deceased, of the one undivided eighth part, subject to the dower estate of the defendants, Emily M. Franklin, of certain real estate situated in Newark and three tracts of land in Union township, containing in all 410 acres.

Plaintiff says that the defendants, Emily M. Franklin, Emily F. Griggs, Martha F. Thompson, Benjamin F. Montgomery and Elizabeth S. Franklin are tenants in common with her in said premises; that the defendant, Emily M. Franklin, has a dower interest in the undivided one-half part of all the real estate, and that the plaintiff and the defendants, Emily H. Griggs, Martha F. Thompson and Benjamin F. Montgomery, each own the undivided one-eighth of said premises, subject to the dower estate of Emily M. Franklin, as widow of Benjamin Franklin, deceased; that the defendant, Elizabeth S. Franklin is entitled to the undivided one-half of said premises.

That the dower of Emily M. Franklin, as widow of Benjamin Franklin, deceased, has never been assigned to her.

That the defendant, Benjamin F. Montgomery, is a minor under 14 years, and resides at Coshocton, O.

That the plaintiff has intermarried with the defendant, Harry P. Scott; that the defendant Martha F. Thompson, has intermarried with Channing M. Thompson, and resides in Newark, O.; that the defendant, Emily F. Griggs, has intermarried with the defendant, Harry H. Griggs, and resides at Collinwood, O.; that John Yost is in possession of the second described tract of land, and claims to have some right and interest therein, but the exact nature of which the plaintiff is unable to state. The plaintiff therefore avers that John Yost should be served with a summons in this action and required to set up any right or claim that he may have in or to the said property, or be forever enjoined from asserting the same.

Plaintiff further says that the personal property of Benjamin Franklin, deceased, is sufficient to pay all the claims and debts against his estate.

Plaintiff therefore prays that John Yost be required to answer and set up any claim he may have in and to said real estate, or be forever barred from asserting the same; that a partition of the real property described may be made under the direction of this court between the plaintiff and the defendants, according to their respective rights and interests therein; that her interest in the premises may be set off to her in severalty; that the commissioner be appointed by the court for the purpose of making such partition and assigning dower; or in case a partition of the premises cannot be made without manifest injury to the value thereof, then that the premises may be sold by and under the direction of this court, free of all the rights of all the persons parties to the suit, and that the proceeds of the sale may be distributed to the parties entitled thereto in lieu of their respective parts and proportions of the estate according to their just rights herein, and that plaintiff may have such other relief as may be just and equitable. F. E. Pomeroy, attorney for the plaintiff.

Answer of Mrs. Emily M. Franklin. Emily M. Franklin, for answer to the above, says that she is the widow of Benjamin Franklin, deceased, and as such is entitled to dower in the undivided one-half of the premises described. She further says that in case said premises cannot be partitioned as prayed for, she hereby waives the assignment of dower to her in the premises by metes and bounds, and asks that she receive from the proceeds of the sale of the premises a fair compensation for her said dower interest.

Notice to Witnesses.

Owing to the fact that Prosecuting Attorney James R. Fitzgibbon and other Newark attorneys will be engaged in the Lingelelter cases at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, during the week commencing February 13, 1905, the criminal cases which have been assigned for trial in the Common Pleas court of this county for that week, will be postponed one week. Witnesses who have been subpoenaed, will take notice, and appear one week from the day mentioned in the subpoena.

J. W. HURSEY, Clerk.

By E. M. Larason, Deputy.

In Circuit Court.

In the case of Samuel Shank, plaintiff in error vs. The State of Ohio, defendant in error, the plaintiff has filed a petition in error in the Circuit Court. Plaintiff in error says that at the January term, 1905, of the Court of Common Pleas for Licking county, defendant in error recovered a judgment against the plaintiff in error, in an action wherein the defendant in error was plaintiff, and the plaintiff in error was defendant. Plaintiff in error says there is an error in the record and proceedings in that the court erred in affirming the judgment and sentence of the Mayor of Utica, and asks that the judgment be reversed, and that he be restored to all things he has lost by reason thereof. Hugh Neal and Wm. M. Koons, attorneys for the plaintiff in error.

Same in the case of Coleman Boggs vs. The State of Ohio.

SEYMOUR NAMED

AS PROSECUTOR OF FRANKLIN COUNTY, OHIO.

Former Licking County Man Succeeds Congressman-Elect E. L. Taylor of Columbus.

Augustus Seymour, a former Newark man, a student at Denison university, Granville, about 15 years ago, row a well known Columbus lawyer, whose wife was formerly Miss Evelyn Owens, of this city, has just been appointed prosecuting attorney of Franklin county, O., by the Common Pleas judges to succeed E. L. Taylor, Jr., Congressman-elect from the Columbus district. Mr. Seymour has been the assistant prosecuting attorney. The other assistants, Kori T. Webber and Wilbur E. King, will move up. And Keel H. Game will secure the vacant place at the foot of the staff.

MRS. LENORA MOORE

WHO WAS SHOT AND KILLED AT WHEELING, W. VA.

Was a Former Newark Woman, the Daughter of B. & O. Engineer

Mrs. Lenora Moore, aged 33, who was shot and killed by Andrew Goudy, who was enamored of her, and then killed himself at Wheeling on Wednesday, was a former Newark woman, her name being Wines. Her father, now dead, ran a B. and O. yard engine for a number of years and a brother is now breaking on the road. Another brother, "Red" Wines, a barber, who formerly lived in Newark, is dead.

After killing Mrs. Moore, Goudy, who is 35 years old, blew out his own brains. Goudy leaves a young wife and a boy, aged three years. Mrs. Moore is survived by her second husband and a daughter, aged 10. There were no witnesses to the tragedy. One theory is that Goudy wanted Mrs. Moore to elope with him; another is that she told him his visits to her must cease. Mrs. Moore's husband, Jos. Moore, is a merchant.

TRACTION CARS

COLLIDED NEAR DAYTON, OHIO, LAST EVENING.

One Man Dead and Many Injured in the Accident Near Gem City—No Signals Displayed.

Dayton, O., Feb. 10.—As the result of a collision between a Dayton, Springfield and Urbana traction car and a Dayton, Covington and Piqua traction stock car several miles east of this city last night, L. D. Parker, of Piqua, a furniture dealer, sustained a fracture of the skull, dying within a short time; Andrew Trieb, of 3304 Capital avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., six ribs fractured, and internally injured, may die; E. M. McCollum, Columbus, compound fracture of the left leg, teeth knocked out and badly bruised; W. W. Barkalow, Dayton, left leg fractured; M. E. Nixon, Dayton, knee joint dislocated; Mrs. Mattie Zoll, Dayton, spine injured and severe bruises about the face.

The D, C. and P. car had just unloaded at the Union stock yards, east of the city, and was endeavoring to reach the switch located about half a mile farther east. It is alleged that no signals were displayed, and the motion on the incoming passenger car on the D. S. and U. failed to notice that the freight car was backing down until it was too late to avoid the collision.

The smoking compartment of the passenger car was entirely demolished and that any of the occupants escaped with their lives is miraculous.

The collision occurred on the trestle spanning the Big Four viaduct, and both cars were almost precipitated a distance of 25 feet. Just before the collision took place the headlight on the passenger became extinguished and it was while attempting to adjust this difficulty that the crash came. Owing to the track being blocked by the debris, the transfer of the dying and injured to the hospital was greatly delayed.

No man can cure consumption. You can prevent it though. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throat. Never fails.

We start our new furnace next Monday, 13th. Boys and girls wanting work should apply at once.

DR. OHLMACHER

Paid a Visit to George M. Gould at Philadelphia—He Didn't Seem Erratic.

Philadelphia, Feb. 10.—When asked this morning concerning the report of a second visit paid him yesterday afternoon by his friend, Dr. A. P. Ohlmacher, George M. Gould of this city, stated that it was true. "Dr. Ohlmacher returned here from New York late yesterday afternoon and went back to New York later in the evening. He will leave New York some time today for his home."

Asked if he considered Dr. Ohlmacher's movements erratic in any sense, Dr. Gould said that he most positively did not.

Further than this Mr. Gould refused to say anything. The most diligent inquiry failed to elicit what Dr. Ohlmacher's mission in the east is, or why he had decided to prolong his stay longer than a day after he had announced yesterday that he would return home then.

Ohlmacher in Columbus.

Columbus, Feb. 10.—Dr. Ohlmacher is now in this city, according to the statement of a close friend, Dr. E. J. Wilson, and Daniel Sowers, a member of the Epileptic board, verify the statement.

The chorus for "The Tenderfoot" in which Richard Carle will appear here Saturday night, February 11, is one of the features of the entertainment. It is a large, well trained and capable body and includes a large percentage of remarkably pretty young women. From the nature of the story, of "The Tenderfoot" the choristers appear as college graduates, Mexicans, Indians, cowboys and girls, and other denizens of the new southwest. "The Tenderfoot" is indeed a novelty in musical comedy. At the Auditorium, Saturday night.

The Degree of Pocahontas will give a social Saturday evening, February 11. Refreshments 10 cents. 10-2
